

158. IT'S A STRONG WIND

(Ether 2:8-10)

Arranged by Eugene F. Amormino

Words and Music by Arlene L. Buffington

1.It's a strong wind, it's a might-y strong wind That blows a strong tree down, It's a 2.It's a strong song, it's a might-y strong song The Lord is send - ing down, It's a 3.There's a strong cry, it's a might-y strong cry Heard in Je - ru - sa - lem, It's a strong wind; it's a might - y strong wind That is heard the world a - round. When the strong song; it's a might - y strong song That is heard the world a - round. When the strong cry; it's a might - y strong cry When they cry, "It must be Him." Then the strong wind blows eve-ry - bod - y knows It was God that brought it down, But the trum - pets blow then the strings will know that a new day has be - gun, And the tears flow free for at last they see and they fall up - on the ground, With His wind won't cease till the Lord says, "Cease," And the tree is on the ground.

band will play, "it's a brand new day," With the ris - ing of the sun.
wounds laid bare Je - sus cries, "Come here, For my lost sheep I have found."
