

162. TAKE UP YOUR BED NOW AND RUN

(Psalm 102:13 ~ Isaiah 62:1-4)

Arranged by Eugene F. Amormino

Words and Music by Arlene L. Buffington

1. We read there's a set time for Zi - on, — And chil - dren, the set time has
2. So man - y were wound - ed in bat - tle, — Where pain brought down man - y a
3. We read of the first great do - min - ion, — And of its re - turn - ing a -
4. The Lord named this love - ly land Beu - lah, — A re - fuge to all who would come, — So send out the word to the dy - ing, — "Take up your bed now and one, — But Zi - on calls out to her chil - dren, — "Take up your bed now and gain, — The gar - den is bloom - ing this morn - ing, — "Take up your bed now and come, — No long - er called Lost nor For - sak - en, — "Take up your bed now and

Chorus

run." —
run." — In-to the Gar-den of E - den, — In-to the arms of God's — Son, The run." —
run." —

3

dead there are raised and the wound-ed re-vived, So take up your bed now and run. —