

164. THERE'S ANOTHER HILL TO TAKE

(Isaiah 31:4 "...so shall the Lord of Hosts come down to fight for Mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.")

Arranged by Eugene F. Amormino

Words and Music by Arlene L. Buffington

1. Je - sus leads his ar - my and they fol - low His com - mand,
2. The lit - tle ar - my march - es on And right in - to the fray,
3. They don't run and they don't hide, Right off to war they go, "For Bat - tle worn and bat - tle scarred But in His strength they stand. Just Gath - er - ing the wound - ed up to fight an - oth - er day. A truth," the ban - ner reads, "We'll stand, a - gainst the fierc - est foe." The when the sold - iers think An - oth - er mile they can - not make, The Lord calls out, "Now sold - ier's down, a sold - ier's up, The line's a - bout to break, When from on high, the Lord says we must win this fight And then the dawn will break, "Get read - y men, a - stead - y, men, There's an - oth - er hill to take, There's an - oth - er hill to take."

Lord cries, "Men, There's an - oth - er hill to take, There's an - oth - er hill to take."
round the bend, There's an - oth - er hill to take, There's an - oth - er hill to take."